

Source: sooperkanoon.com/act/41482

Semiconductor Integrated Circuits Layout-design Act, 2000

Section 50 - Registrar to Refer Certain Disputes to the Board

If any question arises in any proceedings before Registrar, whether a layout-design has been commercially exploited for more than two years anywhere in a convention country for the purpose of registration of such layout-design under this Act, the Registrar shall refer such question to the Appellate Board, and the decision of the Board thereon shall be final.
