

Source: sooperkanoon.com/act/48386

Divorce Act, 1869

Section 44 - Power to Make Such Orders After Decree or Confirmation

1 [Where a decree of dissolution or nullity of marriage has been passed, the District Court may, upon application"] by petition for the purpose, make from time to time all such orders and provisions, with respect to the custody, maintenance and education of the minor children, the marriage of whose parents was the subject of the decree, or for placing such children under the protection of the said court, as might have been made by such decree absolute or decree (as the case may be), or by such interim orders as aforesaid.

1. Substituted by Act 51 of 2001, section 26, for certain words (w.e.f. 3-10-2001).
