

Source: sooperkanoon.com/act/462280

Patents Act, 1970

Section 30 - Anticipation by previous communication to Government.—An invention claimed in a complete specification shall not be

30. Anticipation by previous communication to Government. An invention claimed in a complete specification shall not be deemed to have been anticipated by reason only of the communication of the invention to the Government or to any person authorised by the Government to investigate the invention or its merits, or of anything done, in consequence of such a communication, for the purpose of Section 31 - the investigation