

Source: sooperkanoon.com/act/577962

The Electricity Act 2003

Section 7 - Any generating company may establish, operate and maintain a generating

Company and station without obtaining a licence under this Act if it complies with the technical requirement for standards relating to connectivity with the grid referred to in clause (b) of setting up of generating section