Likkhan Vs. the State of Madhya Pradesh

SooperKanoon Citation : sooperkanoon.com/1049549

Court : Madhya Pradesh

Decided On : Jan-23-2013

Appellant : Likkhan

Respondent : The State of Madhya Pradesh

Advocate for Pet/Ap. : Shri. Manish Tiwari

Judgement :

Criminal Revision No.823/2006 23.1.2013 Shri Manish Tiwari, counsel for the applicant.

Shri P.C.Gupta, Panel Lawyer for the State/ respondent.

Learned counsel for the applicant has submitted a certificate from the Superintendent, Circle Jail, Seoni that the entire sentence is executed to the applicant.

By perusal of the record of the Court, it appears that vide order dated 17.5.2006, execution of jail sentence of the applicant was suspended.

However, he did not appear on the next date given by the Court i.e.on 28.8.2006.

The bail papers were also demanded from the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Balaghat but, a letter dated 1.1.2013 has been received that no such bail papers were received before the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Balaghat.

Under such circumstances, the certificate produced by the applicant appears to be acceptable.

Since the entire sentence is executed, the present revision turns infructuous.

Consequently, it is hereby dismissed being infructuous.
