Mr.A.Thiyagarajan ^For respondents ... Mr.V.Muruganandam, AGP :

ORDER

According to the Petitioner, he is the Member of Kumbabisheka Vizha 48th Mandagapadithar in Arulmigu Shree Sithi Vinayagar Temple at Chinnarakkampatti Village, Marngapuri Taluk, Trichy District and ?.Kumbabishekam?. of that temple was celebrated on 4/9/2014.

2. The Villagers of the Petitioner's Village have arranged for a cultural event in the form of 'Adal Padal programme' on 21/10/2014 at Chinnarakkampatti Village, Marungapuri Taluk, Trichy District. The programme consists of patriotic songs and devotional songs.

3. The Petitioner made a representation in this regard to the Respondent in person on 9/10/2014. Also, through Registered Post, addressed to the Respondent, on 16/10/2014, the Petitioner has sought permission for conducting the said 'Adal Padal programme'. However, the Respondent had not so far disposed of the same.

4. Per contra, the Learned Additional Government Pleader submits that the representation given by the Petitioner dated 9/10/2014 to grant permission for 'Adal Padal programme' to be held on 21/10/2014 and an another representation submitted by the Petitioner through Registered Post on 16/10/2014 are still pending with the Respondent and till date, the Respondent has not considered the representations. However, the Respondent apprehends that if permission to conduct 'Adal Padal programme' on 21/10/2014 is accorded in respect of the Petition mentioned temple at Chinnarakkampatti Village, Marungapuri Taluk, Trichy District for conducting traditional 'Adal Padal dance' programme, then there is a possibility of cropping up of law and order problem.

5. It is to be borne in mind that the commission of an act under IPC is undoubtedly a punishable offence. Likewise, an act done contrary to the Indecent Representation of Women (Prohibition) Act, 1986, becomes an offence, as and when the same is committed. One cannot assume or presume of any illegal act/illegality even before the grant of license for the conduct of 'Adal Padal programme' at Sithi Vinayagar Temple at Chinnarakkampatti Village, Marungapuri Taluk, Trichy District scheduled to be held on 21/10/2014.

6. At this stage, this Court aptly recalls and recollects Section 2 (c) of the Indecent Representation of Women (Prohibition) Act, 1986, defines 'Indecent representation of women'. means the depiction in any manner of the figure of a woman, her form or body or any part thereof in such a way as to have the effect of being indecent, or derogatory to, or denigrating, women, or is likely to deprave, corrupt or injure the public morality or morals.?

7. Indeed, Section 3 of the Act, 1986 speaks of 'Prohibition of advertisements containing indecent representation of woman'. Added further, Section 4 of the Act enjoins 'Prohibition of Publication or Sending by post of books, pamphlets, etc., containing indecent representation of women'.

8. It is to be noted that in a Writ of Mandamus, there must be a subsisting right enforceable in a Court of Law on an individual. Equally, there must be a corresponding duty for issuance of Writ of Mandamus, as opined by this Court. Further, an aggrieved/affected party must have a legal right and he must aver that there is an infringement of public duty. At this stage, it may not be out of place for this Court to pertinently point out that in the decision of the DIRECTOR OF SETTLEMENTS, A.P AND OTHERS Vs. M.R.APPARAO AND ANOTHER {(2002) 4 SUPREME COURT CASES 638, wherein it is held that 'the powers of the High Courts under Art.226 of the Constitution of India though a discretionary one and no limits can be placed upon their discretion, they must be exercised along with recognised lines and subject to certain self-imposed limitations'.

9. As far as the present case is concerned, no statute or enactment is cited or relied upon on the side of the Petitioner which confers a right upon him to conduct Adal Padal programme.

10. It cannot be forgotten that India is a signatory to the Convention of Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and the same is adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in the year 1979. Further, Art.6 of the Convention enjoins that the state parties to take appropriate steps to suppress all forms of trafficking and exploitation of women.

11. Also, that Section 3 of the (Tamil Nadu) Dramatic Performance Act, 1954 (which came into force on 12/1/1955) speaks of 'Power of the State Government to prohibit objectionable performances.' Section 4 of the Act, 1954 also deals about the Power of the Commissioner of Police in the Presidency Town or the District elsewhere to prohibit objectionable performances temporarily. Section 5 of the Act mentions about the 'Service of order of Prohibition'. In fact, Section 6 of the Act, 1954 deals about the penalty for disobeying the order referred to in Sections 3 and 4 and the same being served on the person concerned.

12. Undoubtedly, Art.19 (1) (a) of the Constitution speaks of free speech and expression, but the same is subject to the restrictions under Article 19 (ii), in the considered opinion of this Court. Also that a Script or Play or Drama will be considered as an objectionable one when it falls within any of six sub-clauses described in Section 2 (i) of the Tamil Nadu Dramatic Performance Act, 1954. The provisions of the Tamil Nadu Dramatic Performance Act, 1954 certainly fall well within the ambit/purview of Art.19 of the Constitution of India, in the considered opinion of this Court.

13. It cannot be gain said that the right to freedom of speech and expression is a valuable and cherished right possessed by a Citizen of our Country. It is always open to the State Government to impose/make such reasonable restrictions which are permissible as specified under Art.19 (2) of the Constitution of India.

14. Continuing further, no person can be deprived of his fundamental rights. However, the State Government by its legislative power is entitled to regulate the fundamental rights by imposing reasonable restrictions. However, the said restrictions must be relied to Art.19 (2) of the Constitution of India. Each restriction should be a reasonable one. The restriction to be imposed can only be within the authority of Law. A restriction cannot be exercised merely by an executive power without any Law to back it. In this context, this Court cites the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in THE SUPERINTENDENT, CENTRAL PRISON, FATEHGARH AND ANOTHER Vs. Dr.RAAM MANOHAR LOHIA {AIR 1960 SUPREME COURT CASES633(V47C100)}, whereby and whereunder, it is observed and held as under:- ?Concept of 'public order' in India before the amendment of Art.19 by the Constitution (First Amendment) Act 1951, in America and in England compared, AIR 1950 SC124nd air 1950 SC129and AIR 1952 SC329AND (1940) 310 US296 Ref. By the amendment of Art.19 (2) by the Constitution (First Amendment) Act, 1951 the wide concept of 'public order' is split up under different heads. All the grounds mentioned in cl (2) can be brought under the general head 'public order' in its most comprehensive sense. But the juxtaposition of the different grounds indicates that though sometimes they tend to overlap, they must be ordinarily intended to exclude each other. 'Public order' is, therefore, something which is demarcated from the others. In that limited sense, particularly in view of 'public order' is synonymous with public peace, safety and tranquillity. It is the absence of disorder involving breaches of local significance in contradistinction to national upheavals, such as revolution, civil strife and war, affecting the security of the State. The distinction between the phrases 'in the interest of public order' and 'for the maintenance of public order', does not ignore the necessity for intimate connection between the Act and the public order sought to be maintained by the Act. (S) AIR 1957 SC896 expl.:(S) AIR 1957 SC620Ref. The limitation that the restrictions shall be 'reasonable', brings about the same result. In order to be reasonable, the limitation must have a proximate connection with 'public order' and not one far-fetched, hypothetical, problematical or too remote. AIR 1950 FC67 Ref. and applied.

15. Be that as it may, since the Petitioner is desirous of conducting the 'Adal Padal programme' on 21/10/2014, this Court grants him permission to conduct the said 'Adal Padal/cultural programme like drama and Pattimandram at Chinnarakkampatti Village, Marungapuri Taluk, Trichy District between 07.00 p.m., and 10.00 p.m., subject to the following conditions:- (i).
