JUDGMENT

The above writ petitions are filed challenging Ext.P5 order wherein petitioners, form-5 application has been rejected by the 2nd respondent.

2. Petitioners are the owners in possession of the property having an extent of 1.22, 1.22, 1.30, 1.22,1.22, 1.22,1.22, 1.22, 1.22,1.22, 1.00, 1.22, 1.40,1.22,1.22, 1.22, 1.22 and 1.30 Ares comprised in Resurvey Nos.92/15-18,92/15-22,92/15- 16,92/15-6,92/15-17,92/15-3,92/15-7,92/15-20,92/15- 14,92/15-12,92/15-8,92/15-9,92/15-5,92/15-11,92/15- 10, 92/15-21, 92/15-13 and 92/15-15 respectively, of Pallippuram Village, Murukkumpuzha obtained as per Ext P1 gift deed. The executants of Ext P1 gift deed is a philanthropist and NRI businessman who and Connected cases 21 had a noble vision to provide building sites to the people hailing from poor background who are landless and homeless. Though the entire extent of property is shown as nilam in the basic tax register, the property has been reclaimed long back, before the date of coming into force of the Kerala Conservation of Paddy Land and Wetland Act, 2008 and the property is now lying as a garden land. At present trees aged more than 30 years are standing in the said property.

3. In Ext P4 data bank, the property has been included as paddy land with remarks coconut trees. Petitioners would submit that, this itself will show that, though the property is termed as a paddy land, the authorities while preparing the data bank was conscious of the fact that there are various coconut trees standing in the property. The area nearby the property of the petitioner is a fully developed residential area and there are various residential houses in the nearby properties and Connected cases 22 and there is no paddy cultivation in the area and the property is not fit for paddy cultivation.

4. Thereupon the petitioners submitted an application under Form-5 to remove the said property from the data bank which is now being rejected by Ext P5 order. Petitioners submit that while issuing Ext P5 order none of the parameters for consideration of form-5 application has been duly adverted to. The prime aspect to be considered is as to the nature of the land and whether the same is fit for paddy cultivation as on the date of coming into force of the Act of 2008, which is not seen considered while issuing Ext P5 order. Strangely enough, though Ext P4 data bank shows that the property is a nilam, now the application has been rejected by Ext P5 noting that the property could be treated as a wetland. It is also seen that, in the enquiry report by the Agricultural Officer also, the property has been termed as a paddy land and the only thing that is and Connected cases 23 stated is that there is water logging in the area.

5. The learned Government Pleader submitted that, it is only on the basis of the report from the Village Officer and the Agricultural Officer that the property was treated as a wetland and decided not to be removed from the data bank. In the report submitted by the Agricultural Officer it is reported that the property is a nilam lying as paddy land and there is water logging in the area. The report of the Village Officer also states that, on inspection it was found that there is water logging in that property. This Court cannot comprehend how the property is treated as a wetland and therefore removal from the data bank cannot be allowed.

6. The learned Counsel for the petitioner would rely on the judgment in Jessy Abraham Vs. Land Revenue Commissioner [2022 (1) KLT 461] wherein this Court has held that only for the reason that land is lying low and water logged, the and Connected cases 24 same cannot be treated as paddy land in the data bank. The petitioner also relies on the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in Mather Nagar Residents Association and Another Vs. District Collector, Ernakulam and Others [2020 (2) KHC 94] and submitted that, merely for the reason that the property is lying as fallow is not a reason to treat the said land as a wetland as per the provisions of the Act of 2008. This Court in Suraj Vs. State of Kerala [2018 (1) KLT 1] has held that, once a property has been treated as paddy land subsequently the same cannot be included as a wetland and further held that the land which was originally a paddy land would never fall within the definition of wetland under the Act of 2008. KSRSEC report was obtained before issuing Ext P5 order. In the said report it is specifically observed and concluded that the plot was observed under scattered vegetation/plantation on the data of 07.08.2006 and the same land use practices were and Connected cases 25 continuing in the data of the subsequent years on 2011, 2016 and 2021. A perusal of Ext P5 would reveal that none of the parameters as stated above and the finding in Ext P6 KSRSEC has been properly taken into consideration. In the report submitted by the Village Officer as well as the Agricultural Officer, it is stated that the property is water logged, and the same cannot be a reason to include the property as a wetland. The nature of the property as on the date of coming into force of the Act of 2008 is the relevant aspect for consideration for inclusion or removal of a property from the data bank.

7. Considering all these aspects, I am of the opinion that Ext P5 order is liable to be set aside and I do so. There will be a consequential direction to the 2nd respondent to reconsider the application submitted under form-5 after adverting to the details as pointed out in the judgment and the KSRSEC report. Petitioners would be free to and Connected cases 26 submit their notes of argument and is free to produce all the relevant judgments referred to above along with the same. A decision in this regard shall be taken within a period of two months from the date of receipt of a copy of this judgment. Petitioners may be afforded an opportunity of being heard before a decision is taken as directed above. The 2nd respondent while taking a decision as directed above shall also take into consideration the fact that the petitioners have obtained this property as a gift, as they are landless and homeless and therefore shall properly apply his mind and take a proper and reasoned decision in the matter. With the above said direction, the writ petitions are disposed of. sd/- VIJU ABRAHAM JUDGE pm and Connected cases 27 APPENDIX OF WP(C) 27246/2022 PETITIONER EXHIBITS Exhibit P1 TRUE COPY OF GIFT DEED NO.1384/2018 OF 22..9..2018.
